Did You Know?

Massachusetts is one of the states with the largest percentage of residents who walk or bike to work.

Taking the carpool lane can cut your commute time down by as much as half.

The overall effects of public transportation saves the United States 4.2 billion gallons of gasoline annually.

By 2015, 24.1% of all US workers reported doing some or all of their work for their primary job at home.

In 2016, over 5,000 people commuted by ferry each weekday in Massachusetts.

Only 44 percent of professionals are aware of their company's flexible work policies.
